ABOUT US

J Holdings is a holding company that operates dynamic and primarily growth-oriented businesses. A diverse set of operations are being financed by us and we assist them with the goal of maximizing their value.

Focused on fostering partnerships and serving generations, we invest in businesses which would benefit from long term economic stewardship, in the segments of agricultural trading, construction, government sales, logistics, power generation and warehousing.

Tracing its roots back to 1849 in pre-partition India, our Group re-invented itself in 1949 in Pakistan and its operations now span the globe.

We believe our primary obligation is in the wellbeing of our stakeholders, and the communities in which we operate, and that everything we do must adhere to the highest standards of excellence.

The multicultural background of our employees, the range of our home markets, the breadth of our products and services reflect not only our diversity but also our ability to integrate.

HISTORY

Since establishing their first business in undivided India in 1849, the Jaffer family name has not only been synonymous with trust, ethics and integrity but also reflective of perseverance, dedication and commitment in each of the geographies where the family's companies operated. Despite various setbacks and challenges, upholding these values remained a motivating factor for the four generations of Jaffer's who have shaped the company's direction not only in Pakistan but also globally since 1949.

Our values transcend commercial objectives and are reflected in the family's monumental contributions in struggle for independence of Pakistan, their resilience in addressing the economic hardships of nationalization, and in their uncompromising efforts to provide products and services that contribute to national development, whilst also positioning the company for international expansion and building a legacy for the future. With over 171 years of entrepreneurial experience, the company has successfully fostered the transfer of knowledge and skills amongst its independent business units.

Over the years, J Holdings and its subsidiaries have demonstrated ability to succeed and adapt under challenging operating conditions. We have stimulated agricultural development and trade by providing market access to producers, nurtured urban growth by building sustainable spaces that foster economic activity, promoted infrastructural development by delivering landmark projects on time and with quality, transported goods and services across geographies, driven industrialization by facilitating power generation and minimized commodity price volatility in frontier markets through affordable, safe and secure warehousing.

LOGISTICS

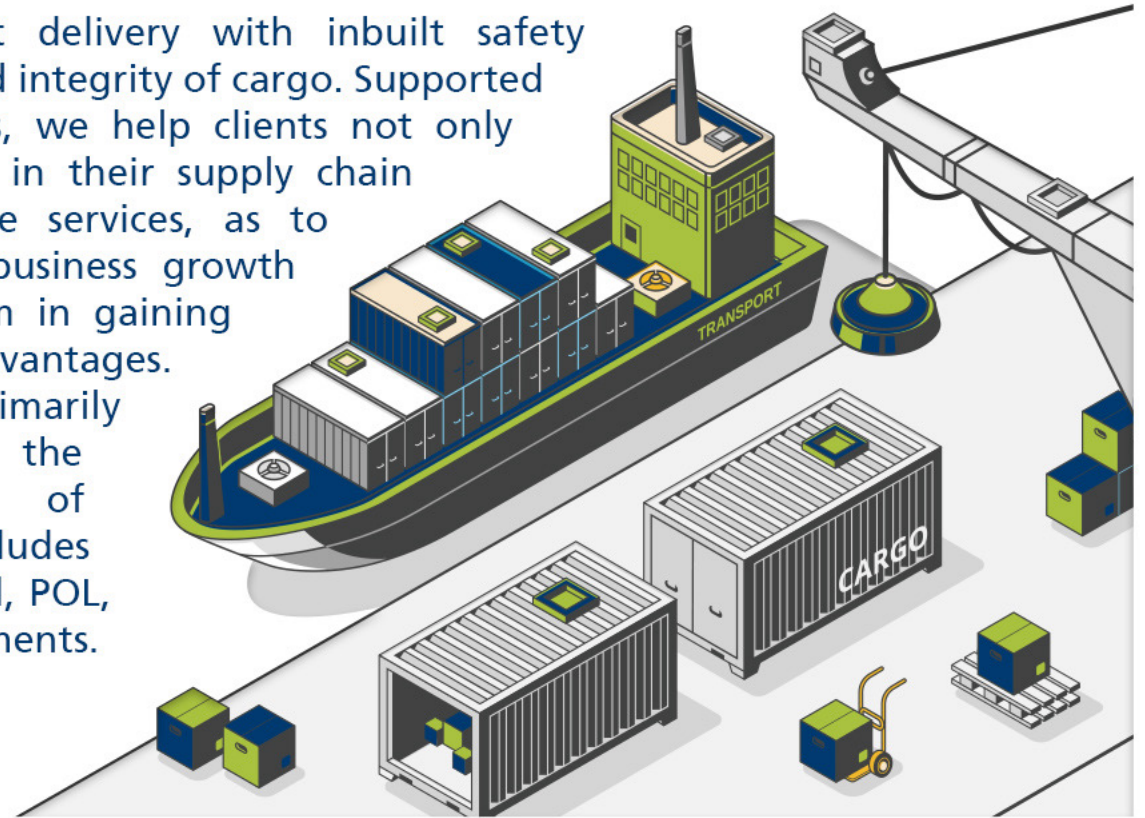

We are engaged in point-to-point delivery with inbuilt safety procedures to ensure the security and integrity of cargo. Supported by a team of logisticians, we help clients not only develop efficiencies in their supply chain but also provide services, as to support their business growth and assist them in gaining competitive advantages.

We are primarily involved in the movement of challenging cargoes, which includes transportation of sensitive liquids such as ethanol, POL, aviation fuel, containerized cargo and other specialized movements.

We perform with integrity, transparency and respect for all involved by implementing international best practices.

WAREHOUSING

We offer bonded/non-bonded warehousing, which provides our customers with management of their raw material, semi-finished product and final product inventories.

We are fully equipped to store goods with high security and safety standards, as well as heavy weighted material.

The goal is to provide a complete storage and delivery solution to our customers, allowing them to focus on their core competencies, while leaving their inventory control and management worries to us.
